DUES AND DEPOSIT INFORMATION:

Your Buyers Cooperative membership DUES are used for expenses, emergency funds. Your DEPOSIT money is used to purchase Biomass in bulk. Each member has their own account and makes withdrawals of Biomass throughout the season against that account. The minimum DEPOSIT balance at the beginning of each season must be $300. Our heating season starts on September, 15th of each year.

Type of member	Dues +	Min Deposit =	Total Amount Due
Renewing Member	$25 +	$300 =	$325
New Member	$100 +	$300 =	$400
Pre Season Membership	$100 +	$ 0 =	$100 available April 15 through Aug 15

NOTES:

1. We encourage members to make a large enough deposit to cover their corn usage for half the season. This saves time for both you and our accountant. Our average member uses 120 units per season.
2. If you join/renew after Dec 31, the minimum deposit is $200.
3. If you are a Renewing Member, you will have a balance from last year and are only required to bring your total balance up to $300.
4. Although it is not required you may want to volunteer to help us spread the word about Biomass. If you would like to be contacted periodically about volunteer opportunities check this box

This contract serves as your official membership commitment in the Baltimore Biomass Buyers Cooperative. By signing below, members agree to abide by the rules and procedures outlined in the Cooperative rules and the Memorandum of Understanding with the City of Baltimore. Whenever your deposit balance falls below $100, you agree to deposit an additional $150.
